

Capstone Design CONFERENCE 2020

JUNE 1-3, 2020 ▶ DALLAS, TEXAS

2020

Call for Student Participation

We invite proposals of exemplary capstone projects to be presented in poster format by students who are currently enrolled in, or have recently completed a capstone design course. From these accepted proposals, students may also be invited to participate on a panel. The conference will also include workshops and other fun events!

Student project submissions should include (1) a description of the project (300-500 words) and (2) an endorsement from the faculty member (100-200 words) explaining the exceptional nature of the project as well as the potential of the students to contribute to panel discussions.

Conference registration fees for all accepted undergraduate participants will be waived, and we will provide conference accommodation in on-campus residence halls. Financial support to offset some travel costs may also be available. Student nominees must indicate that they can and will attend the conference and participate in the poster session if accepted. Submissions are due by March 15, 2020, if travel funding will be requested. For those posters submitted and accepted after the deadline but before March 31, the conference fees will still be waived for one student to attend, but no travel funding will be provided. Approximately half of the student nominations accepted will be regional students, and half will be non-regional students; this allows us to have funding for more students. Acceptance decisions will be made by March 31, 2020.
